A CALF IN SCHOOL. dozon little boys and girk,
with sun browned cheeks and flaxen curis,
Stood in a row one day, at school,
And each obeyed the leacher's rule.
Bright eyes were on their open books:
Outside, the sunny orchard nooks
Bent fragrant breezes through the room
To whisper of the summer's bloom.

A busy hum of voices rose,
The morning lesson neared its close,
When "tap, tap, tap, "upon the floor,
Made every eye turn to the door.
A l'tt'e caif that wandered by
Had ck-unced the children there to spy,
And trotted in to join the class,
Much to the joy of lad and lass.

Their A B, Ab, and B A, Ba,
It heard, and solemnly did say:
Baal Baal!" then scampered to the green,
And nover since in School has been.
Those girls and boys acon learned to spe
Abd read and write; but who can tell
How great that little calf became?
It may bo, now a cow of fame!
Or was that "Baal" all that it knew?
I think it must have been. Bont you?

THE TRUMAN AND JOSLYN FEUD.

How It Stands to Date-Five Joslyns Gone-Two to Follow.

Farmer Truman, of Kentucky, was up an apple tree the other day, handpicking a choice lot of seek no-furthers, when along came Farmer Joslyn. As farmer Joslyn had a shotgun with him, a careless observer might have reasoned that he was out gunning for quail. There was nothing of the careless observer about Farmer Truman. However he didn't tumble from the tree right away, but he did tumble to Farmer Joslyn's errand, and he halted in his picking and called out:

"After me, eh?"

Sections 146-750, inclusive, read as follows: In case of removal, death, resignation or inability of both the President and Vice President of the Senate, or, if there is none, then the Speaker of the Ilouse of Representatives, for the time being, shall act as President until the disability is removed or a President elected.

"Whenever the officers of President and, Vice President, both become varicant the Secretary of State, shall forthwith cause a notification thereof to be made to the executive of every State, and shall also cause the same

"The Story of Napoleon Bouaparte's Divorce from the Empress Josephine" is told by Noel Ruthven in a way to excite the reader's warmest sympatics with with the amiable lady whom a lubrabund's ambition completed to describe and illustrates a little-known part of our hemisphere in his attractive "Glimpses of South Brazil"; while Lieutenant Winder, of the Navy, carries us back to the days of Robinson Crusce, in his "Rescue of the Trinley's Crew"—the story of the crew of an American vessel lost on a rarely visited island in the Antarctic Ocean. Ackroyd's cientific article on "Whirlpools and Whielwinds" explains the origin of those deadly forces in nature which so frequently compel us to record those deadly forces in nature which so frequently compel us to record their destructive ravages. Mr. L. W. Blake, the subject of the above sketch, with the Evening Chronicle, St. Louis, Mo., in answer to the inquiry of a reporter said: "For seven years had been ailing with catarrh, and during that time have been treated by six emilnent physicians, without success. Some doctors told me I had consumption. For the past three years I had a continual discharge of mucous droppings in the throat, a cough and pain across my forehead. Added to that was loss of memory, voice, appetite, roaring in the cars, and a general feeling of wirethedness. About five months ago I consulted Dr. Turner. To-day I am as well as ever, have gained twenty pounds, and don't detect a trace of my old trouble. Yes, sir, I would be pleased to asswer, by letter, any person suffering from that dread disease."

Louis Turner, M. D., has offices at 819 Washington ave., St. Louis, Mo., and has, in a private and hospital practice of over thirty years, treated with wonderful success all carable cases. It is interesting to notice the different degrees of success attained in business or professional life, by men who apparently start with equal chances. Those who fail of "success" in gaining money may be as successful as the millionaires in making themselves use ul and their lives happy; yet an observer may learn much from noticing the causes which led to failure or to success. One characteristic of successful men is close and wide-awake attention to the work in hand, such, for instance, as marked a New York driver on the line of stages which have recently been withdrawn from Broadway. He had a genius for driving a stage, and was noted for keeping his stage full of passengers, and for taking in more fares than any other driver on the route. His success was not accidental. His eyes were forever on the lookout, both on Broadway and in the side streets, so that he never failed to see a distant nod or a slight gesture. A similar alertness for business is noticeable among the fruit peddlers, the boot-blacks and the news-boys of New York. Three carts full of bananas and other fruit may be often seen standing close together by the sidewalk. The man in the middle cart will work every moment—standing up. acteristic of successful men is close and polled. Six of the old Councilmen were voted for without opposition. The seventh being ineligible two new men were put forward for his place.

The following for the old Councilmen the middle cart will work every moment—standing up, the only instance where persons have been "shot in the neck" since the cold spell set in.

But the other venders will be seated and half-dozing, or reading a newspaper, carelessly waiting for a customer to ask for fruit. Before noon the appearance of the wagons shows the inevitable result. By night, the middle wagon is empty, while the other venders wheel home a good part of their stock to keep till the next day, and complain of "bad luck" and "hard times." Some of the boot-blacks fly about through the crowds like shuttles, cagerly examining every pair of boots, and asking here and there: "Have a shine, sir?" Even the beggers keep a close watch on the stream of coppers, and never stay long in a spot when their income begins to fall away. This alertness which takes advantage of every opening, is one of the indispensable conditions of success.—Youth's Companion.

Glove and Handkerchief.

Gloves are most expensive items, and yet the outlay for them may be considerably reduced by a little care.

Those who wear silk handkerchiefs round the neck in cold weather will find pale pink the best color, because it will bear washing and always look new and fail to call on him. good afterward. The same can hardly be said of any other tint, for though a light blue will sometimes stand soap and water it is but rarely, and white

None but the best have worth buying, and light ones win clean once or twice, though it is next to uppossible to perform this operation at hose.

The great trouble with silk goves is the tendency of the finger tips to year rapidly into holes, and the very bear way of avoiding it is to put a tiny bit of a oil glove in, but the attitches, however wrefully done, have an uppleasant vick if showing, and the wool is far preforable.

With Suede gloves the case is quite different; the light indyed colors soil far sooner than the wear out, and it is advisable to have a bair of boxwood hands of the right sis on which to wash and dry them. The mixture for the purpose should be use of white curd soap, cut up small amboiled in a little milk, and the dirty over should be well rubbed and cleane with a little bit of faunel dipped in After being sponged with warms in hot—water to remove this, they should be wiped with a towel and left on the awood stretchers untill quite dry.—N. 3rd premium—George S. Robinson, of Corinth, Ky., solid coin silver cup, valued at $10.00.

The judges appointed were as follows:

The Louisville Trade are confident they will offer fully 125,000 hogsheads during this year. Up to the 3rd of the present month the offerings had aggregated 130,295 hhds, and we were informed by several gentlemen the offerings of 1885 crop will reach something over 2,000 hhds before the close of this month. The warehousmen are prepared and determined to get as large a percentage of the 1885 crop as they have of the 1884 crop, and with three new ware-housemen now built, and an addition al one in the spring, they will not want for facilities.

THE CHARACTER OF THE 1885 CROP. but that with the exception of Cigar Leaf Tobacco, the 1885 Tobacco crop is an inferior one as to quality and general character. There was too much dry weather and burning sun to permit of the development of body in the bulk of the crop, and in consequence it is lacking in this most important feature. Much fine looking leaf is reported, but much of it when leading its conductions. handled is found to be flimsey, and will not cure well. Good Old Tobacco ought to be a valuable stock. West Tobacco Journal.

LATE OR EARLY TOBACCO SALES. A very thoughtful Tobacco man, with whom we conversed recently, is carnestly impressed, after years of observation, with the belief that late sales pay the farmer better than early sales. He holds that the Tobacco is not ready for the manufactures of the commonwealth.

For the purpose of extending our circulation to every part of the State, we make the following liberal offers to subscribers:

$1.001 is not ready for the manufacturer before next summer, and that sales at this season are almost exclusively to speculators, while later sales by farmers are direct to the manufacturer.—Stock and Farm December

New crop seems to be selling be low the expectations of many plan-ters and shippers, and they are hold-ing off walting for an improvement. Some with whom we conversed said there would have to be considerable of an improvement to induce them to sell, and that there would be a rather short crop next year if prices did not improve.-West Tobacco Journal.

Babyhood for December, which is the first number of its second year, contains a quantity of timely Christmas suggestions as to what to buy for Baby, etc., and reverts to the subject of "Compulsory Kissing," this time in its medical aspect. "Rocking Baby to Sleep" is the title of one of many interesting letters in the "Mothers' Parliament." Dr. Cyrus Edson, of the New York Board of Health, writes on "Preserved Milk," exposing certain processes employed by un-scrupulous dealers, and giving direcrect route from the South to the West and Northwest. M. Bartholdi has been very M. Bartholdi has been very busy since his arrival in this country, with responding to social attentions and affairs pertaining to the erection of the "Statue of Liberty Enlightening the World," on Liberty Island, New York Harbor. He has had frequent conferences with Gen. Stone, Engineer-in-Chief of the Pedestal of the Statue of Liberty, and has made his final suggestions as to the erection of final suggestions as to the erection of the statue. It is not probable that the pedestal will be completed for two months yet, and will not be ready to receive the statue till late this winter. He says the entire work cannot be completed before the close of next summer; that the statue is of such great size that it must be put up slowly and with the greatest care. He thinks it will take five months to get it securely placed on the pedestal. His plan is to have the dedication on the 3d of next September, the anniversary of the signing of the treaty of Versailles, which secured peace af ter the Revolutionary war and guaranteed the recognition of the American Republic. can Republic. The New York World popular sub-
